

Attending St. Columba's and Keeping Safe

In line with Church of Scotland guidance and as a courtesy to others we are asking, where possible, those attending a church service to maintain a social distance from others.

We have introduced the Check in Scotland process, as a result pre-booking is no longer necessary. If you are not able to use this process we still need to record your attendance for government Track & Trace purposes. It is also still a requirement to wear a face covering during a service unless you are exempt.

If you are unable to attend you can still join us online for our weekly service which we aim to have available later on a Sunday Evening.
