God is our refuge, God our strength,
In troubled times our aid;
Therefore, should earth itself be moved,
We shall not be afraid.

Nor shall we fear if mountains fall
Beneath the roaring waves,
Or hilltops quake in surging seas:
Ours is the God who saves.

There is a river which delights
The city of our God;
It flows through that most hallowed place
God chose for his abode.

God lives for ever at her heart,
She never will be moved;
Each morning at the break of day
God's saving help is proved.
